

Commander Emily A. Rose currently serves as the Prevention Law Division Chief in the Coast Guard Office of Maritime and International Law, where she leads a team of active duty and civilian attorneys to support Coast Guard mission execution. Prior to her current assignment, CDR Rose served as the Coast Guard Liaison Officer to the U.S. Department of State, Office of Ocean and Polar Affairs. From 2019 to 2021, CDR Rose was the Marine Safety, Security, and Environmental Protection program reviewer within the Coast Guard Office of Budget and Programs. As a Judge Advocate, CDR Rose previously served as the Senior Appellate Counsel in the Coast Guard Office of Military Justice and as a staff attorney in the Coast Guard Seventh District Legal Office. CDR Rose also served as a Special Assistant United States Attorney in the United States Attorney's Office for the Southern District of Florida, where she prosecuted cases involving maritime related offenses.

CDR Rose previously served as the Commanding Officer of USCGC DIAMONDBACK (WPB 87370) from 2010 – 2012 and as a Deck Watch Officer aboard USCGC RESOLUTE (WMEC 620) from 2008 – 2010.

CDR Rose graduated from the U.S. Coast Guard Academy in 2008, where she earned a Bachelor of Science in Government with High Honors. In 2015, CDR Rose earned her Juris Doctor, magna cum laude, from Georgetown University Law Center. She is a member of the State of Maryland bar.