Jason R. Harris is a partner in the Wilmington, North Carolina office of Cranfill, Sumner & Hartzog, LLP and a Proctor member of the Maritime Law Association of the United States. He represents and advises clients in a variety of general litigation, transportation, admiralty, maritime, and corporate matters. In his litigation practice, Jason frequently represents clients and insurers in maritime and transportation cases, including the defense and prosecution of serious bodily injuries, fatalities, casualties, and construction disputes. Jason has extensive experience providing counsel to clients on corporate and risk management issues.

Jason took a hiatus from the private practice of law to serve as General Counsel, Director of Legal and Corporate Secretary for an international marine salvage, wreck removal, decommissioning, and underwater services company headquartered in Houston, Texas, with its operational headquarters in Holland. Jason earned his BA from Auburn University in 1997, his JD from Wake Forest University School of Law in 2000, and his LL.M. in Ocean and Coastal Law from the University of Miami School of Law in 2001. He is admitted to practice in North Carolina and Texas.

Jason lives with his wife and soccer-playing son in coastal North Carolina. On the weekends you'll find them outdoors under the Carolina blue sky, often aboard their 22' M/V BLUE PHISH.
