

Carolyn Elizabeth Bundy is an associate with Freehill Hogan & Mahar LLP in New York, New York. Ms. Bundy obtained her undergraduate degree in architecture from the University of Kansas before attending New England School of Law in Boston. She was a New England Scholar, completing her degree with a full scholarship, and served as a Technical Coordinating Editor on the New England Law Review. After graduation in 2003, Ms. Bundy practiced maritime law with a leading New York maritime firm for over four years, acquiring significant experience in a wide range of cases, before joining Freehill Hogan & Mahar LLP. She is currently practicing in all areas of maritime law, with a focus on personal injury defense. Ms. Bundy also has experience in the areas of cargo, commercial litigation, and transportation and aviation law. Ms. Bundy is admitted in New York and New Jersey, both federal district and state courts. She is actively involved in the Maritime Law Association and is currently the Chair of the Young Lawyers' Committee and the Vice Chair of the Continuing Legal Education Committee.

Carolyn Elizabeth Bundy
Freehill Hogan & Mahar LLP
80 Pine Street, 24th Floor
New York, New York 10005
Tel: 212-425-1900
Direct: 212-381-3015
Fax: 212-425-1901
E-mail: bundy@freehill.com