

Harold K. (Hal) Watson is a partner in the law firm of Locke Liddell & Sapp LLP, where he specializes in maritime and insurance law, with a special emphasis on marine and energy insurance. He is a graduate of LSU Law School, where he served as an editor of the Louisiana Law Review, and holds a master of laws degree from Yale Law School. He is on the Board of Directors of the Maritime Law Association of the United States, and is a former chairman of the Maritime and Energy Law Committee of the International Association of Defense Counsel. He has also served as an industry advisor to the United States delegation to the International Maritime Organization and participated in the drafting of the proposed Wreck Removal Convention under consideration by the IMO.